Grape & Origin

This rosé is made from Cabernet Sauvignon, a serious red grape grown in the warm Južnoslovenská region (Jasová) — a deliberately unconventional choice for a rosé, giving it more structure and depth of colour than a light summer rosé.

Tasting Notes

Red oranges, black currants and a crisp nettle edge on the nose. Dry, structured, with a clean, refreshing finish: more grip than a typical summer rosé, without losing any of its drinkability. Serve chilled around 10°C in a standard white or rosé glass.

Why It's Different

Most rosé is made to be forgettable: pale, sweet, simple. This one is made from a serious red grape grown on warm slopes, and keeps that grape's structure even in rosé form — closer to a light red than a poolside rosé.

Food Pairing

Grilled vegetables, tapas and light pasta — and structured enough to hold its own alongside grilled meats too.
